Bryan Stegehuis I didn't make it past the second sentence of his reply before facepalming.

"One of the undeniable hallmarks of bodybuilding is extreme muscularity. The other is razor-sharp conditioning."

Seiha Kim That caused me actual, physical pain to read. But entertaining nonetheless.

Seiha Kim I did squats and deadlifts yesterday and then ran 3 miles. So according to this guy, it's like I did...nothing?

Jennifer Petrosino / View my page on Facebook if I didn't love you like the family you are I'd kill you for this lol. You guys are being completely lame for one, he's simply giving the data he has collected from his studies, without knowing in full details of the methods of each study, we can just simply take in and appreciate the fact that he did a study and is reporting the results..and while it's fine to disagree and have an alternative opinion, it is just that, an opinion until you support it with research...note:I'm not staying your opinion is wrong (I personally walk and have found for myself, it doesn't effect my strength but that HIIT does) but at the end of the day, these are our opinions and for the time being are nothing more then broscience until we have research to support...so atop hating on doc, he's actually freakin awesome...:

Alex Viada Jennifer- we ARE being a bit petty by not actually pointing out WHY we disagree with what we disagree with. Though, honestly, I DID download and read the studies. 😊 If I wasn't three beers deep, I'd give a more in depth reply, but I am, so I won't. Maybe tomorrow.
